Please include this letter to borough assembly members for meeting, Thank You Mike Kinison
I know I am late sorry.

I have lived here for 40 years and have witnessed our neighbor Skagway having to deal with years of ore truck traffic.

Many years ago a necessary clean up of the toxic ore dust required highway shoulder and ditch clean up for miles along the highway.

The on going clean up at the harbor is a long incomplete process leaving Skagway residents with a toxic under water environment where residents are told not to eat food recourses there.

There should be a community discussion as to weather Haines, with it's widely supported pitch for adventure tourism, Its state designated scenic classification, 9with it's all important balled eagle preserve stretching miles along the highway corridors)

Does Haines want to become a corridor for an endless precession of Canadian ore truck traffic? Would Skagway ever want to go back to being an ore transfer town?

Of course the Canadians want to use and impact, negatively, Haines, Its sea life recourses and impact residents of both the highway and town with an endless stream of ore truck.

We take all the consequences, Canadian mine companies get an easy profitable route.

Sure there will be some Haines jobs but at what total cost to Haines.

Please let the community be involved in this process, not a blanket support by a few.

This is a life long Haines decision to be made.

I do not support a change for Haines to become an ore transfer town for Canada.
